Black swan nest/eggs

A group of Hoary-headed Grebes is captured in a shallow, blue water body. The birds are in various stages of flight or landing, with their wings spread, showing a mix of brown and white feathers. The background is filled with the trunks and branches of dead, bleached trees, creating a textured, natural setting. The water is clear and reflects the light, with some splashing visible around the birds.

A photograph of two hoary-headed grebes swimming in a pond. The birds are in the foreground, facing left, with their reflections visible in the water. A third grebe is visible in the background, out of focus. The water is a mix of blue and green, with some brown debris floating on the surface. The background is a soft-focus landscape of trees and sky.
